SUBJECT: Distributed Resource Interconnection Workshop

On March 12, 2004, Staff of the Illinois Commerce Commission ("Staff") is holding a Distributed Resource Interconnection workshop at the Illinois Historic Preservation Agency, 313 South Sixth Street, Springfield, IL. The workshop will be held from 10 AM to 5 PM in the Great Room on the first floor. The Illinois Historic Preservation Agency is one building North of the Commission's Office between Capitol Avenue and Monroe Avenue.

Based on comments that were filed by interested parties, Staff has revised the draft rule that was posted to the Commission's web site on December 12, 2003. Two copies of the revised rule (one showing revisions and the other with revisions accepted) have been posted on the following web page: <http://www.icc.state.il.us/ec/library.aspx?key=ecDGI>. An agenda for the March 12 workshop has also been posted. Some sections of the rule have not been revised because we expect to address various unresolved issues at the workshop and through further workshops and/or requests for comments.

The Great Room holds approximately 100 people, which should be plenty of space. However, I would like to get a better idea of who will be attending the workshop. So, please send me an e-mail no later than Wednesday, March 10, with the names of those that plan to attend on behalf of your organization. As always, feel free to contact me if you have any questions or need additional information.

Sincerely,
Charles C. S. Iannello
